

BIRKBECK BUSINESS SCHOOL REPLICATION GAMES.

 Friday, 26th of January 2024

 BIRKBECK, UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, UK

We are looking for academics, post-docs, and PhD students interested in a one-day replication challenge.

Participants will be granted co-authorship on a meta-paper combining the replications and will have the opportunity to publish their work. Participants will be grouped based on their research interests, and assigned a study from a leading psychology, management, or economics journal – and then have a day to re-analyze the data and attempt to replicate the results.

The event will take place in person at Birkbeck, University of London. Virtual participants are also welcome. The local organizer is Lukas Wallrich.

Interested researchers or teams should send their field(s) of study and preferred statistical software to:
